Efficacy of the main ingredients

Super lifting polymer

It is a polymer made by dissolving porous minerals. When it comes into contact with weakly acidic skin, it absorbs carbon dioxide in the air and changes into a gel form. At this time, in the process of transforming into a gel, porous minerals adsorb wastes from the skin and decompose fat, and strongly lift the sagged skin to improve wrinkles and make the skin elastic.

Efficacy: Powerful lifting, wrinkle improvement, whitening, removal of wastes, lipolysis

Hovenia Dulcis Fruit Extract

Hovenia Dulcis contains 13% of sugars such as fructose, sugar, glucose, catalase, and peroxidase and contains a lot of trace elements such as calcium and triterpenoids, hovenic acid, rutin, potassium, and iron to prevent skin aging.

Efficacy: antioxidant effect, immunity enhancement, skin stress suppression, skin nutrient flow enhancement, detoxification

Peptide Copper Tripeptide / Acetyl Hexapeptide / Palmitoyl penta peptide

It is a substance synthesized into a desired molecular structure using amino acids extracted from plants. It increases collagen in the skin, improves wrinkles, heals wounds, and regenerates the skin according to the molecular structure.

Efficacy: Collagen increase, wrinkle improvement, wound healing, skin regeneration

Adenosinome (a functional ingredient for wrinkle improvement recognized by the Korea Food and Drug Administration)

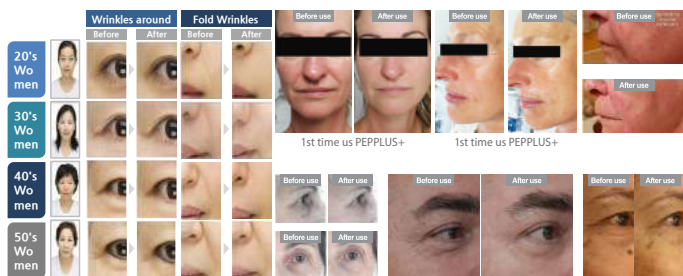

As a component of ATP, which is essential in the activity of living organisms, it is easily absorbed into cells and synthesized in vivo. As an important substance that regulates various metabolisms, it is effective in improving skin elasticity, preventing skin wrinkles, and increasing collagen synthesis.

Efficacy: skin elasticity and wrinkle improvement effect

Adenosinome is a nano-sized multi-membrane liposome structure that stably encapsulates adenosine, a functional raw material, in a multi-layered membrane, and then secretes adenosine when applied to the skin to maximize the effect.
