

A tasty combination of bean sprouts and traditional 'seaweed laver snack chips' (Kongdamgo kongbugak)

Jeonju's bean sprout producer, member-centered, Ongoeul Farm Cooperative

We use seaweed produced in a clean area recognized by UNESCO, adopting the traditional method of erecting support poles

Providing a savory flavor created by adding Jeonju bean sprouts traditional Korean Korean 'Kongdamgo kongbugak'

It is a 100% handmade product made with care, and comes in a small package that is easy to carry.

Kongdamgo kongbugak, made even more savory with soybean powder

The combination of light soybean powder and savory seaweed makes 'seaweed laver-bean snack chips' (Kongbugak)', a healthy and savory soybean product that allows you to enjoy both the unique savory taste and aroma.

Just like traditional cooking methods!

This snack is handmade by preparing glutinous rice porridge directly without using a machine, giving it the traditional taste of homemade snacks.

What's more, no chemical seasonings, artificial colors, or preservatives are used in its preparation.

Use of raw materials sourced only from Korea

This is a healthy food containing only the highest-quality local, carefully selected agricultural products.

Convenient, and without crumbs

By maintaining a level and flat shape, the creation of crumbs is avoided. In addition, the small packaging of two pieces improves portability and storage.
